POWERLINE

● This month we review a mixed bag of games and include a special report on Super NES software. Wait until you see the poster! It's loaded with actual screen shots of games being developed for the Super NES. We've talked a lot about the great graphics made possible by our new 16-bit system—now see some for yourself!

● If you like quality animation, you'll like our feature on Rockin' Kats. Willy and Jill see the kramoi Kats around, and Willy has a flying fist that he uses to flatten foes and fly through the air. Every stage is really a cartoon episode that, by controlling the action, the player directs.

● Based on this summer's movie is another feature, Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves. It combines the best features of adventure and role-playing games in a tale that closely follows the classic legend of the outlaw of Sherwood Forest. The game includes an interesting combination of scenes that have Robin battling bad guys on foot in the forest, eluding captors on horseback, and exploring ancient castles. When major characters battle, the scene switches to a side view. For example, when Robin and Little John square off at their first meeting, the view shows them from the side fighting on a log. Possibly the game's most fascinating feature, though, is the subscriber. It shows a cross-section of a character, a chart of body parts, and a box containing items the player has picked up. Using a hand icon, the player selects an item and indicates where it should be used. An apple, for instance, would be used by the mouth. Innovations like the subscriber make Robin Hood an unusually fresh and fun game.

● We're also featuring an NES game starring one of Disney's newest—and most popular—characters, The Little Mermaid. The game takes up where the movie left off, with Ariel leaving her prince to return to life under the sea. Why would she do that? See page 38 to see what's happening in Triton's domain. You know that he's kind-hearted, but when power ends up in the wrong hands, it's a different kettle of fish.

● In our Game Boy section we're introducing the InfoGenius series of Productivity Paks. Once you've seen what it can do, you'll think of your Game Boy as more than just a source of entertainment: the InfoGenius series makes it a source of information as well. Five Productivity Paks are now available, and more are being planned. Paks reviewed include a travel guide, French and Spanish language translators, a personal organizer, and a spellchecker. They're a great way to put your Game Boy to work for you!

● Also in this month's Game Boy review section is Who Framed Roger Rabbit. Like the NES version, it's based on characters from the hit movie, but that's where the similarity between the two games ends. Capcom's Game Boy version has lots of action and a fun, new plot that has Roger racing around the city searching for facts.

It's not just for kids!

Lots of the letters we receive are from kids, but Nintendo products have fans of many ages. In this month's Player's Pulse, we present the extremes, from grandchildren to grandparants. These youngsters are just beginning to learn which side of the controller is up, but the more experienced seniors really shine at game play.

GAME BOY BEATS SLICED BREAD!

Last Christmas my two grown sons gave me a Game Boy with Tetris and three other games: Dexterity (Wow!), Boxola (Fun!), and Side Pocket (Rad!). Words failed me at the time, but no more! This letter is to advise you that Game Boy is the greatest thing since sliced bread—it's addictive but soothing and relaxing. (It sounds almost illegal, doesn't it?) I fly frequently to visit my children, and you can bet that my Game Boy goes with me. I've thrown away my aspirin and now "chill out" (as my kids say) with Tetris or Side Pocket. The concept is terrific. Thanks!

Ellen Salender
Englewood, FL

GRANDMA THE GAMESTER

My name is Mark. I have a grandma who was babysitting my sister and I one night while we were playing our NES. I asked if she wanted to play with us, and she said, "No, that's for kids." Later we went to bed. In the middle of the night I woke up because I heard beeping. Grandma was on Level 4 of Super Mario Bros.!

Mark Giuntini
Medford, OR

WE'RE KICKED

W e thought you might get a kick out of this picture. Our four-year-old son set it up, thinking our three-week-old daughter would like to play a game with him. He told me later that she didn't do very well.

The Laskers
Roseville, MI

GAME BOY GETS GIRL

I wouldn't mind my daughter's playing with my Game Boy so much if she would just let me win occasionally.

David P. Kerr
Rockville, MD

A QUICK LEARNER

I thought you might enjoy seeing our youngest NES player, Seth Allen. He mimics his eight-year-old sister, Erin, playing her games, and he looks mighty happy doing it!

Sharon Allen
Allentown, PA

COUNTERFEITERS NABBED THANKS TO AGENTS' TIPS!

Back in February, we asked agents to blow the whistle on counterfeit Game Paks, and thanks to the merry who did, it's working! Reports on the pho-nics called and mailed in from across the country are helping us put a stop to the distribution of misleading and inferior Game Paks masquerading as genuine Nintendo products. Keep those reports coming! If you see advertisements for lots of titles—possibly one hundred or more—in one Game Pak, be suspicious. Then help finger a fraud by sending us the ad you saw. Mario says "Grazie!"

SENIOR STRATEGIST

I am 15 and an avid video game player. I love my NES and have beaten almost all of the games I have. But recently I have been forced to share my Game Boy with someone else: my grandfather. At first I figured that he wouldn't be any good, so my turns would come quickly. Wrong. My grandfather, Frank DeLong, amazed me with his skill at games like Tetris, Klax, Spot, and Golf.

He can play them all with only one hand. He had a stroke when he was about 67 that left him without the use of one arm. My grandfather is about the best player I know at puzzle and strategy games. He is now in the hospital again so I gave him my Game Boy and Tetris to help pass the time. I hope he has a quick recovery—at least he'll have a great game to keep him company.

James F. DeLong Jr.
Birmingham, AL

A STRATEGIC VICTORY FOR GAME BOY

Enclosed are the remains of my one-time comforter, playmate, and rejuvenator.... Game Boy. As a police officer in Oklahoma City and a registered nurse serving in Operation Desert Storm, I've faced many perils. Fortunately, this Game Boy, several Game Paks, and sundry other personal items were the only casualties claimed by a fire while I was stationed in the Middle East. I'm probably not the first to ask, but is it possible to get a replacement?

Stephen Scoggins
Oklahoma City, OK

When we received Stephen's Game Boy from the Middle East, we thought that it was a goner. The back of the unit was in fair condition, but the front was charred and blistered from the heat of the fire. As an experiment, we popped in a Tetris Game Pak, plugged in a Battery Pak, and flipped on the power switch. When we heard its distinctive "Ping!" we couldn't believe it! The Control Pad and A and B Buttons suffered melt down, but the Start and Select Buttons worked perfectly. Game Boy is even tougher than we thought it was! Of course, we don't recommend that you subject your Game Boy to trial by fire, but in this case, we replaced Stephen's Game Boy as a special "Desert Storm" courtesy.

It looks like a lost cause, but a closer look at the screen shows that the Game Boy still works—sort of.

This month, we want you to let your imagination run wild. Most of us dream about meeting—and maybe even impressing—someone famous. If you could Game Link with a celebrity, who would it be? Imagine the possibilities! Would you challenge NASCAR great Bill Elliott for the checkered flag in F1 Race? Ace Andre Agassi at Tennis? Pulverize the Helster at WWF Superstars? Sack Marino in his own end zone in Play Action Football? Send a description of your Game Boy dream link. We'll print the most fantastic fantasies in a future issue. Send yours to this address:

A VIDEO GAME TO MATCH THE MOVIE HIT!

Warner Bros. summer production of Robin Hood: Prince Of Thieves is wowing movie audiences with great sets, costumes and a new telling of the famous Robin Hood legend. Virgin Games, Inc. plans to follow up the movie with a video game as action-packed as the film. Even though the actual actors and actress's likenesses are not in the game, it does follow the script almost scene for scene. And while the game has plenty of great action and excitement, what really stands out is the way the story unfolds clearly and logically. It's almost like you're in the movie!

PREPARE FOR YOUR JOURNEY...

BATTLE

You'll be presented with three different perspectives on the action, depending on the situation. In standard, the action is viewed from overhead. For one-on-one battles, the game switches to a close-up, side-view, dueling mode. And for battles between armies of foes, a bird's eye view is engaged.

COMMANDS

Although Robin Hood: Prince Of Thieves is really an adventure game, it does have role playing elements that allow you to interact in many ways with items and people you encounter. The detail is reminiscent of some personal computer games.

TALK

Always talk to people. They often have information or clues about what to do next.

LOOK

The look command gives you a general description of your surroundings.

TAKE

You'll find many things during your adventures. Take them and add them to your inventory.

SEARCH

Use the search command to reveal hidden items. This is useful after entering a tree.

EXIT

Return to the main menu by using the exit command.

STANDARD MODE

Most of the action and adventure takes place in this standard overhead view.

DUELING MODE

For special duels, a detailed side view perspective is used.

MELEE MODE

Battles between Robin's band and hordes of enemies are fought out in a bird's eye view.

PLAYER

The Player command brings up a sub-screen. It's here that you can manipulate items and weapons. Point at the object you want to use and press the A button to select it. Then come the object to the loop and press A to perform the action.

CHANGE CHARACTER

You can check out the status of your entire band at any time. Each man has a status screen.

ALL FOR ONE & ONE FOR ALL

Robin and his men can share items freely. Select an item to transfer that's Status Screen, then select the other's and use A there.

NOW BEGINS AN EPIC JOURNEY...

IN THE ARAB DUNGEONS...

It is the twelfth century, and the third crusade is raging. Two of England's crusaders, however, are rotting in Arab dungeons—Robin Locksley and Peter DuBois. Robin stands by helplessly as a guard tortures Peter. Is there any escape from this pit?

A FLASH OF STEEL AND FREEDOM!

Look around the dungeon chamber... The guard has carelessly left his sword in Robin's reach! As the guard punishes Peter, grab the sword and use it! With the guard off-guard, you can free Peter, take the guard's key and escape!

A FRIEND IS LOST...

The catacombs are Robin's escape route, but unfortunately, they are crawling with Arab guards who have discovered the escape. Because there are so many guards, the catacombs are a good place to build up experience. When you finally reach the north passage to freedom, you'll have to defeat a final group of guards in Meloe Mada. Not everyone will make it out alive...

Your first Meloe Mada battle is against Arab guards. Fight your way to freedom!

ENTER AZEEM

Should you trust this swarthy fellow inmate? At this point in your career, so do either, you need all the friends you can get. Release him and he'll give you information on how to escape the dungeons.

DUEL THE JAILOR

A final jailor must be defeated to reach Azeem's secret passage. When you battle this guard, the action switches to Trading Mode. Your last bet is, they don't let you hit and run tactics. Be sure to search the jailor after you defeat him.

RETURN TO LOCKSLEY CASTLE...

After a long journey, Robin and Azeem return to England. While Azeem finds everything in this new world unusual, Robin is in for more of a shock. The Sheriff of Nottingham and other cronies of King John have taken over England while King Richard is on a crusade and is looting and pillaging the country.

WELCOME BACK, ROBIN LOCKSLEY

Robin is in for a cold reception from Guy of Gisborne, the Sheriff's cousin and chief henchman. Grab the Long Bow and apple if before you talk to Guy. If you fight well in the ensuing Mainz Meads battle, Guy and his men will retreat. Talk to John Little's son before you leave.

LOCKSLEY CASTLE IN RUINS

Search all around Locksley Castle before you enter to find valuable life-restoring items. You'll discover the grim truth about the castle itself soon enough!

THE CASTLE'S HAUNTED HALLS

The once great Locksley Castle has been reduced to rubble by the Sheriff's men. It is now inhabited by wild dogs and vermin. Search the Castle for survivors of the Sheriff's carnage and additional items that may be useful.

Bence has been killed by the Sheriff's men. He'll join you and hand over the Locksley Medallion, which grants your passage.

A PROMISE IS KEPT AT DUBOIS MANOR...

Robin fulfills his promise to Pater when he visits Maid Marian at Dubois Manor. However, the house is crowded with the Sheriff's men, so this melancholy reunion must be cut short. To enter the Manor, Robin will have to wear the Locksley Medalion.

A MAIDEN IN OISSERT

Maid Marian is in the east chamber of Dubois Manor. Fight your way through the Sheriff's men (watch for their arrows) to reach her. Marian has Chain Mail in her quarters, but you can only see it if you're third level.

SO BEGINS THE LIFE OF A BANOIT

Marian suggests that Robin flee to Sherwood Forest, where many rebellion against the false ruler live. Take the castle and "live" it while being the heroes which are grating in front of the Manor.

RIDE LIKE THE WIND

Robin's wild ride to Sherwood Forest is portrayed in a side-view scrolling action scene. Your goal is to escape the three pursuers, to hold tight on the Steady Pad.

Keep your steed's nose over the chain-link in your path. Don't slow down for anything.

The horse chase is not difficult, but the consequences are intense and final.

It's an exciting experience, but it's gone over.

A NEW HOME AND A NEW BEGINNING...

If you escape from the Sheriff's men, you'll make it to Sherwood Forest, haven for rebels against the pretender's tyrannical rule. Because of its size and density, the forest holds many secrets...

STOCK UP ON PROVISIONS

Search Sherwood Forest well for valuable items and the elusive rebots. Since the only way to recover Hit Points is by eating food or drinking Yellow Potions, it pays to have as many as your hand can carry.

JOHN LITTLE DEMANDS A TOLL

The outlaws are exceedingly distrustful of strangers. The toughest rebel, John Little, will challenge you to a duel if you attempt to enter their camp. To win, keep your distance and pick out moves that take advantage of your strength; if you stay at a lower level than John, you can kill him without fear of retaliation.

When John Little duels, look to stay on top.

After you defeat John, he's got a new name—John Little—and you'll be elected leader of the rebels!

THE CAMP THAT ROBIN BUILT

With Bobbie reluctantly accepting leadership of their band, the rebels' sights are set. They decide to build a camp in the depths of Sherwood that will be Robin's base for the remainder of his adventures. At the end of each adventure, Bobbie will return here. And each time he leaves and returns, the camp will grow in size and more people will join the fight against tyranny.

It starts out as a clearing in the forest...

...but soon a few two-houses are added...

...as the eager rebels build a half-fledged camp!

MATRIMONY MOST FOUL

Robin's first adventure as champion of the people is to halt a forced marriage between an evil Baron and an innocent maiden. According to the maiden's true love, a letter in the church will prove the marriage is forced and will discredit the Baron. Robin accepts the challenge...

TREACHERY IN THE CHAPEL

The Baron has stationed guards to make sure no one tries to disrupt his wedding. These soldiers carry bows and are tough to beat with a sword alone. Your best bet is to go straight for the letter upstairs and then to the wedding on the first floor.

Shoot diagonally to catch the enemy off-guard.

THE WEAPONS-MASTER OF SHERWOOD

Although the rebel camp flourishes, there is great anxiety because few of the people are trained fighters. With storm clouds brewing on the horizon, Robin sets out to find a mysterious hermit who is rumored to be master of many weapons. Perhaps he will teach the rebels, most of whom were once farmers, the finer points of war.

DUEL THE MASTER

To test Robin's worth, the Master will challenge him to a duel. This one isn't to the death, though, and if Robin wins, the Master will agree to help the rebels. He will charge 200 gold pieces for his services, which you should have by now if you've been picking up all possible gold.

Think and move and let the Master come to you.

THE ROCKIN' KATS SEASON IS IN FULL SWING! HERE'S AN UPDATE ON THE ACTION!

Good afternoon. I'm Tom Furball and this is "At The Meow-vies" on KATZ-TV. Today we take a special look at Rockin' Kats, a rollicking adventure series with a P.I. named Willy, his girlfriend, Jill, and the town bully, Mugsy. The first two episodes have already aired and today, we focus on Episode Three.

WILL WILLY AND I EVER GET ANY PRIVACY?

Time and time again, that oaf Mugsy takes me to his hidden headquarters and Willy has to come to my rescue. When will he get the idea that we just want to be left alone?

I dream of our days in New York...

Bang!

A KOOL KAT NEEDS A KOOL WEAPON

Rockin' Kat Willy can knock enemies silly with his spring-loaded Super Punch Gun. He can also use it to grab objects from afar and buy attachments that will make it more powerful. Since Mugsy's minions are out in force, Willy's got to peck a wellop and make sure that he can make his way to the big cheese in time. If any bad kats get in Willy's way, he's gonna have to super punch 'em.

PUNCH

With a tap of the B Button, you can let go of a power-packed punch and send Mugsy's forces sailing.

A spring-loaded Super Punch Gun punch will knock out all approaching enemies within reach and slow the way to Mugsy's hideout.

PUNCH 'N JUMP

Press the B Button and Down on the Control Pad while Willy is in the air. He'll bounce back with an extra high jump.

Grab some air by jumping and hitting the pavement with the Super Punch Gun. You'll bounce back with bonus hang time and extra height.

SMASH ATTACK

If Willy's being chased, just punch a nearby obstacle and he'll blast off backwards and knock into his opponent.

Surprise your pursuers by punching obstacles in front of you and blasting back with speed and power! They won't know what hit them!

SPIN ATTACK

Grab a platform with the Super Punch Gun. Then press B and Willy will spin and knock out everyone within reach.

Grab a stable object in the air and get some forward momentum for a rockin' roundhouse attack. You'll clear the area easily.

SPIN JUMP

Press the B Button while Willy is in the middle of a Spin Attack and you'll launch him skyward.

Watch your spin and release your grip when you're heading in the direction you want to go. You'll sail away for a super long jump.

CATCH AND THROW

Press and hold the B Button and you'll be able to catch falling objects which you can throw toward approaching enemies.

Grab a falling plant or soda can and you'll be able to knock out approaching enemies by tossing the objects to the left or right.

CHANNEL ONE

The first Rockin' Kats episode, titled "Downtown Street", takes place, predictably, downtown. When Mugsy makes off with Jill, Willy's got to hit the road and find her. What drama! Mugsy's forces have been alerted that Willy is on the way, so they're ready. There's even an over-grown bird who gets hopping mad when Willy invades its turf. The action really heats up when Willy follows Mugsy's trail into the underground and takes a ride on the roof of the interurban.

Hydrants 'n Hoods; 1-1

Mugsy's men are all over the streets. Hit 'em with your Super Punch Gun and blast 'em with cold water from fire hydrants.

Big Bird; 1-2

The sizable sparrow that roams this block tries to knock you down with its eggs. Power punch the peeper and fly.

Take a Train Ride; 1-3

What's an action-packed episode without a chase on top of a moving train? Keep rockin' and try to derail the thugs onboard.

Pipe Up, Pipe Down; 1-4

As you swing through this plumber's nightmare, you'll encounter a pack of stray gangster dogs. Dodge their bullets and pound them.

Bullhorn Avalanche; 1-5

Dodge the dropping bullhorns and keep moving.

BOSS

THE BULL BAND

Mugsy's got a hot quintet with a heavy sound. The three frontmen emerge and toss notes. Time to play Whack-A-Dog!

After a check, watch out for falling bullhorns!

GO FOR GADGETS GALORE AT THE TV STORE

Tune into the Shop Channel for a wide selection of useful items and stock up. If you're low on dough, though, you'll have to defeat enemies, find money bags or win some bonus games before you can take off with the goods. Once you have an item, you'll be able to keep it until all of your lives have been used up.

BOMBER

For only 100 bucks, you can walk away with this endless supply of explosive devices. They work your will when there are several enemies blocking it over. Set the charge and let them have it!

HAMMER PUNCH

This mace-like weapon will set you back 200 bucks, but it'll send your enemies back further. Use it to mangle your way through a crowd. You'll have to switch to the standard gun, though, when you want to grab something.

TWIN BALLS

Hit hard-to-reach enemies with these powerful projectiles. For a cost of only 300 bucks, they are definitely a must-have. Don't leave the Shopping Channel without them!

JET SNEAKERS

For short bursts of lower power, you can invest 400 bucks and fly away with Jet Sneakers. They don't take you far, but they're useful in a few key areas. Jump as far as you can first, then switch on the Sneakers for some extra air.

ONE-UP

An extra life is 500 bucks! That's steep, considering that you can earn plenty of them on the road or in the roulette bonus game. Buy them on the Shopping Channel only if you've got more dough than you know what to do with.

CHANNEL TWO

Bomb tossing bears and plane piloting hounds are Willy's nemesis in the second week's episode, "Sky Ace." Willy and Mugsy take to the air for a dog (and kat) fight that ends with a crash when Willy takes on Mugsy's manic punching machine inside a dirigible at 40,000 feet. Talk about terror!

Airfield Antics: 2-1

Bomb-tossing bears intend to ground you. Grab onto something and swing.

In-Flight Frenzy: 2-2

Hitch a ride on the wing of a plane and take on a flock of birds and bombers.

Flying Beagle: 2-3

While you're on the wing of an old-fashioned airplane, a high-flying mutt will drop down and toss a variety of objects. Take it down with the Twin Balls.

Airship Acrobatics: 2-4

Bounce up to the top of Mugsy's Airship.

In the Works: 2-5

The Airship engine room is full of dogs on bombs and open gaps. Watch your step.

Bonus-Filled Fall: 2-6

Drop to Mugsy's level by one of two openings and collect Bonuses.

BOSS PUNCHING MACHINE

This four-fisted flyer hovers out of reach and sends the hands down to do the dirty work. You should have the Twin Balls for this fight.

BONUS GAMES

Three Bonus Games offer chances to win money and 1-Ups. For 50 bucks you can have a crack at Roulette. Stop spinning and you may land on a decent prize. Play Basketball for 25 bucks and try to Spin Jump into moving baskets. Toss balls into pipes for 100 bucks and you could walk away with 560 bucks!

ROULETTE

Round and round she goes. Where she stops, nobody knows. You'll get two chances for big prizes every time you play Roulette.

Land on a number and you'll win the corresponding prize. The best bonuses are 100 bucks and a 3-Up. Not bad!

After you've had your two chances, your prizes will be awarded. Walk away with more than it costs you to play and Willy will be happy.

BASKETBALL

Grab onto the platform and start spinning. The baskets are pretty difficult targets, so they're all moving up and down or side to side.

Let go and try to aim your ball into one of the baskets. If you make it, you'll win the prize on the side of the target basket.

You've got two chances to play and it only costs 25 bucks! You'll be sure to earn a decent profit in this event.

PIPE TOSS

Press and hold the B button to extend your glove and catch a ball in the profitable Pipe Toss event.

You'll have 40 seconds to throw as many balls as you can into the moving pipes. Every hit will net you the prize on the side.

If you're good at hitting the 70-inch pipe, you could earn a sizable bonus! From this event, even though it costs 100 bucks to join.

KAMMER PUNCH

This week's exciting episode, "Playland," pits Willy against the fiendish forces of Mugsy's amusement park. Plate-tossing pandas, scooter-riding gremlins and ball-spitting bulldogs are just a few of the dangers that he encounters. Once Willy makes his way through the first section of the park, he has a slight detour through a cemetery where he encounters a ghost dog. After that, there's more rides and wacky enemies as he gets closer and closer to Mugsy's whereabouts.

START

Playland Pandas: 3-1

Pandas with plates aim to break up your attempt to get through the park and rescue Jill. You'll also encounter ball-spitting bulldogs and gremlins on skateboards.

WATCH FOR RISING SPIKES

Wait for spikes to emerge from a given pipe before you leap into that pipe. Then, go for it while the spikes are still in the air.

THE GHOST DOG EMERGES!

If you've got the Kammer Punch, you should be able to bully your way through this encounter. Knock the dog silly, then get out of the way when it splits.

Galloping Ghoul: 3-2

The Playland haunted house is full of ghost dogs. Watch out.

A

B

GOTO C

Bound and Pound: 3-3

Hit the birds as soon as they come within pounding distance in this area. Then grab onto a platform and Spin Jump over the cement pond.

GET 'GATOR AID

The alligators in the pond will let you jump as their snouts so long as you get off of them quickly. As soon as you land on the third alligator, reach up and start swinging. If you wait too long, you'll be 'gator bait.

COASTER CHAOS

The Kammer Punch and the Yeln Balls are both good weapons to have when you come across the roller coasters. Use the Kammer Punch to knock out the angry faces that are sent from the cars. Then switch to the Yeln Balls. You can use a Spin Attack to put the cars out of commission and then aim for the riders on the coasters. With a well-placed attack, you'll be able to hit the riders and have plenty of time to avoid their attacks.

PUNCHIN' IN PLAYLAND

Make sure that you invest in the Hammer Punch before you attempt to get through Playland. The enemies are tough, so you need a tough weapon.

ANGLE JUMP

The only way that you'll be able to get to the top of the fence in this section of Playland is by using a variation of the Punch 'N Jump technique. Press Down and Left on the Control Pad to go forward and you'll go up and over at an angle.

Skyride Scare: 3-5

Take a scenic tour over Playland on the Skyride and watch for plate-tossing pandas on the ferris wheel. This is a long episode, but you're nearing the end. Hang in there and keep fighting.

Bean the Bats

As you drop to Mugsy's Playland headquarters, try to knock out the bats before they swarm.

Conveyor Confusion: 3-4

This section is deceptively difficult. Watch your step on the conveyor belts and try to swing up to the top.

BOSS CLOWN DOG CAPERS

Mugsy's got a big surprise at the end of Playland. It's a devious dog in a clown suit who rides a gear-spitting dog head. First, you're going to want to go after the head. Then, you should aim your fire on the clown.

HAMMER TIME!

Aim for the nose of the dog head and jump to hit it with the Hammer Punch or switch to the Bone Balls and run from the gears as they roll down. They'll first drop to the center and then to the sides. If you use the Hammer Punch, the gears will not present a problem at all.

THE CLOWN COMES DOWN

When the Clown Dog leaps away from the dog head, it will tumble around the entire room twice, then stop to throw gears. Jump out of the way as it's landing. Then aim for the clown when it falls down and hit it three times quickly. Run when the Clown Dog starts to throw its gears and repeat the process until it's history. Since the clown dog takes a lot of hits, you'll have to be patient and try to avoid contact at all times.

CHANNEL

Let's take a look ahead at Week Four. Willy finds himself in the middle of a wild "Western Adventure." Kooky cowboys and wacky Indians both go after this lone puncher as he tries to foil Muggy's plans. Once you're caught up on these first four episodes, you'll be able to tune-in to episode five for the season finale! Then, stay tuned for a special surprise after the final credits!

Western Showdown: 4-1

The residents of this one horse town don't take kindly to strangers. Power punch 'em and move on.

Bound Over Bluffs: 4-2

Leap the gaps in this rock formation and watch for arrow-firing hounds.

Drop 'n Swing: 4-4

The cave is lined with spikes. Leap over them or grab a branch and clear the spikes with a swing. Then drop to the bottom and move on to the next section.

Cave Caper: 4-3

Arrow-firing mutts are all over this underground hideaway. Let their arrows fly over you, then move in and punch.

Totem Pole Trouble For Willy

The dog at the top of this totem is causing problems. Stay on the left side, watch the wind and jump to hit the dog with Twin Balls.

TWIN BALLS ARE A MUST

If you don't have the Twin Balls here, it will be quite difficult to move on. Make sure that you make the totempost, then knock out the dog from the safety of the leftmost ledge.

SUPER TIPS FOR ROCKIN' WILLY

1 If you've gone into an episode without a special weapon that you could really use, you can break from the episode by pausing the game and pressing the A Button three times. Then Shop away!

2 You do have control over Willy while he's in the air. Use the Super Punch Gun in mid flight and you'll be able to direct where Willy flies.

TAKE A TWIN SHOOTER ALONG

Since you can't get your paws on a six shooter for this episode, the Twin Shooter will have to do. Buy it to use against wild enemies everywhere while you're exploring the West.

Quiet Cave: 4-5

There's not much going on in this section. But the silence won't last for long.

Propel Over The Mighty Pit

A Grab ahold of the branch in this section and use a Spin Jump to fly up to the ledge with the big rock.

B Punch 'N Jump from the rock and punch in the air to fly right.

Mid-Air Moves

You'll be in for a learning experience in this part of the episode as you ride a nice car on a set of invisible tracks. Jump on soon as you get to point A on the map. You'll collect a 1-Up and you'll make it to the other side. Jet Savatars may be a good investment, just to give you an extra boost across the gap.

BIG EAGLE WITH A BIG ROCK

Mugsy's up to his old tricks again. This time, he's trained an eagle to carry boulders and drop them on Willy from above. And, if that wasn't enough, it swoops down and attacks, too! Ouch!

BOMBS AWAY!

This Eagle is smart. It watches you, then drops the boulder, aiming for where you are. Get out of the way and hurray! When the boulder lands, it will split and corral. A good evasive maneuver is to wait for one of the rocks, then use a Search Attack to get out of the way when the boulder drops.

INCOMING! WATCH OUT!

When the Eagle isn't carrying a boulder, it's swooping down and tapping you with its talons. Hit it with the Twin Balls when you have a clear shot and keep on hitting it as much as you can. It'll take a lot of hits before this bird finally gives up!

IT'S NOT QUITE OVER AFTER EPISODE FIVE. WATCH THE CREDITS, THEN GET READY FOR A SUPER CHALLENGING SPECIAL! WHO KNOWS HOW LONG THIS CAN GO ON?

Sweet Ride

Your journey across the Springfield Mall in Stage Two of this challenger is full of treacherous obstacles. One obstacle that you needn't worry about is the large patch of wet cement near the beginning of the stage. There are pieces of wrapped candy and lollipops floating over the cement. In order to avoid the cement, you've got to jump from one sweet to the next, and the going gets tough toward the far end of the cement. You can avoid that predicament, though, by jumping up and down three times on the second piece of candy. It will start to move like a platform and carry you over the entire patch of cement!

Click a ride across the cement by jumping three times on the second piece of wrapped candy.

Guaranteed Win

You can earn a 1-Up on the Wheel of Fortune of Stage Three every time if you have the Magnet. Purchase the Magnet at Toys 'N Stuff on the streets of Springfield in Stage One. Select it and press the Start Button before you pick a number on the Wheel of Fortune. The Magnet will influence the Wheel and make it land on your number.

Use the Magnet to win a 1-Up with the Wheel of Fortune.

DRAGON WARRIOR

FROM AGENT #292

Once Is Enough

Hargon's Castle is the sight of your final battle against the evil forces in this chapter of the Dragon Warrior saga. Chances are that you won't defeat all of the enemies in the castle on your first few tries. You can, though, make each attempt on Hargon's Castle count toward your final victory. You'll find the castle west of the Monolith of Rhone. As soon as you enter, use the Charm of Rubiss to reveal the actual interior of the castle. Move on behind the throne and to the left. Then use the Jailor's Key or Open Spell to unlock a hidden door. Walk to the right until you come to a door and use the Golden Key. Move up through that door and use the Eye of Malroth in the center of the room. You'll be sent to the castle tower where the fight begins.

Use the Jailor's Key or Open Spell to unlock a hidden door.

Go to the center of this room and use the Eye of Malroth.

Before you take on Hargon or Malroth, you'll battle Atlas, Bazuzu and Zarlox. If you're defeated, you'll be sent back to the Monolith of Rhone where you'll have the opportunity to save your game. If you choose to save, Atlas, Bazuzu and Zarlox will return to the castle. Choose instead not to save, and you'll never have to deal with those creatures again.

Choose not to save your game after you have been defeated in Hargon's Castle.

If you've defeated Atlas, Bazuzu or Zarlox before, you never have to meet them again.

FROM AGENT #123

Michelle, Isaac and Bill

The Low G-Man programmers are probably paying homage to their friends with the Passwords for advanced levels in the game. Each Password is four characters, so they've changed two of the names to fit. One name is Michelle, so the Password for Level Two is "MICH" and the Password for Level Three is "ELLE." Another name is Isaac. To make the name fit as the Password for Level Four, it becomes "ISAC." The third name, Bill, fits perfectly as "BILL," the Password for Level Five.

Level Two	MICH
Level Three	ELLE
Level Four	ISAC
Level Five	BILL

Use BILL to go directly to Level Five.

Sound Test

Enter SONG as your Password to sample the Low G Man sounds. The message "BGM 00 EFT 00" will appear. BGM stands for "Background Music" and EFT stands for "Effects." Press Up and Down on the Control Pad to switch between the two and press Left and Right to change the numbers. Then press the A Button to start the sounds and press the B Button to stop them.

More Challenges Ahead

If you thought the first time through Low G Man was challenging, wait 'till you've completed the game and start over again. The second and third times through are super challenging. For a sneak peek of those stages, enter TERU as your Password for the second run-through (Stage 1-1A) and enter MARU as your Password for the third run-through (Stage 1-1B).

It looks like the first stage of over again. Only, this time, the going gets tough very early on.

The Ultimate Ending And More

If you want to check out the best ending of the game before you get there through your own skillful playing, just enter YES followed by a Heart design, as your Password. You'll be able to see what awaits you, once you've completed the game on your own.

See the ending of Low G Man with a very positive Password.

There are two elusive transportation devices in Low G Man. They are the Cyber Express and Anti Gravity Transport. You can take a look at the Cyber Express by entering AMAN as your Password and you can view the Anti Gravity Transport by entering NAKA as your Password. These particular versions of the devices are just for show, as they won't ever take you anywhere.

Take a last ride on two cool transports with the Passwords AMAN and NAKA.

Partner Power

Pro wrestling rules say that tag team partners must stay in their corners while they're waiting to be tagged. As you know from watching the real thing, though, rules are made to be broken. Our Agents have found that you can break the rules and get some valuable off-duty assistance from your tag team partner in the latest wrestling game for the NES. Start a one-player game or challenge another player and choose to include at least one tag team partner on each side. Then, as the match is in progress, press the Select Button and the A Button at the same time. Your tag team partner will jump from the corner into the ring! For a few seconds, until your partner is close to being disqualified, you can have two bona-crunchers on your side! Your partner will be computer-controlled. He'll try to get in a few choice hits. Then as the timer ticks closely to a ten count, he'll go back to the corner. Call him into the ring whenever you need some help.

Press A and Select at the same time to call your partner into the ring.

If you'd like your partner to do some dirty work outside of the ring, press the B Button and the Select Button at the same time. Your partner will run around the ring to the opposite corner and knock some energy out of the tag team partner on the opposing side. If you're playing against another player and he or she sends a tag team partner over to your corner to cause havoc, you can retaliate by sending over your own partner. The partners will meet in the middle and have it out.

Make waves outside of the ring by pressing B and Select at the same time.

THE LITTLE MERMAID

Once upon a time....

Disney produced a movie about a mermaid with a magical voice. Now Ariel is prepared to swim her way into your home in Capcom's new NES game, The Little Mermaid, which contains all of the characters that made the movie so popular. All five stages take place under the sea, where the Sea Witch controls the creatures and the forces of nature.

FIN FLIPPIN' FUN

Ariel's fins are fine for finding hidden treasures or fighting off fish and other sea creatures. Her tail's Power and Range build with every pearl she finds, so be sure to look for them in all of the Treasure Chests. When her Power is up, try fin-flipping boulders and barrels to send them crashing into enemies and objects. To swim faster and swish past your enemies, press any direction on the Control Pad and the B Button.

Bubble Trouble

When you swim at enemies, bubbles appear in the wake of Ariel's tail. If the enemies are within range, they will be trepped.

Bubbles up! Capture Fish in bubbles by swishing your fin at them when they're near enough.

Some Fish hide under glass-like bubbles. Swish them away to send their shells flying, then swim again to capture them in the bubbles.

Pearl Power

At first you have to fin-flip foes once to stun them, twice to capture them. The Pearls you find increase either the Power or Range of your swats.

Look for Treasure Chests! Find Red Pearls to give you the Power to move barrels and stone statues with one swat of the tail instead of two.

Power up with more Pearls. Two Red Pearls give you the strength to push small stones and capture bigger bad guys.

With the Power of three Red Pearls, you'll push the biggest stones and swish away sea monsters with bubbles that can net up even the biggest Round Heads.

SEA of CORAL

Under the surface of the sea, things aren't serene. The Fish are moan! If they touch Ariel, they zap her strength. When the hearts in the upper left corner are gone, so is she.

Shells may be precious, but Shells are very useful. While you carry them, you're protected from Fish attacks. You can also throw them at enemies, use crates, or use them to open Treasure Chests.

Retrieve Treasures

Hold a Shell over a Treasure Chest and press A. The chest will open and reveal its contents. A circled X on maps indicates empty chests.

Check the Caves and Crannies

1-Up's are hidden in the waterless world. Check all corners and crannies for miniature mermails that give Ariel extra lives.

YIKES! SHARK BAIT!

A lone mermail is no match for a mako shark. Don't waste Bubble's trying to capture him. Instead, throw Fish balls. Your direct hit is all it takes.

SUNKEN SHIP

Sunken ships are super spooky! As if ferocious fish weren't bad enough, now you have to face ghost fish, too. The ship also houses pesky hermit crabs and obnoxious octopi that spit Power-sapping ink balls. The creepy, crawly, eerie Eels must be Ursula's work!

A Fish out of Water

The ship is only partly submerged. Hold Up on the Control Pad and press A to jump up onto ledges and snag the Shells resting there, then hop back into the water.

Scour the Sand

Suspicious treasures such as Hearts, Shells, and Dinglehoppers are hidden in the sand on the ocean floor. Use your flippers to uncover them.

Check as many hearts as you can for Hearts. They refill Ariel's life force and allow her additional hits by mass sea creatures.

Roll out the Barrels

Barrels are sometimes useful, sometimes not. If you're powerful enough, you can sweep them out of the way with your tail. If you don't have a Shell, roll a Barrel into a Treasure Chest to break it open.

ELECTRIC EELS

Clever Eels lurk in the shadows, ready to strike. Wait until the hermit Crabs are moving towards you with their eyes open, then cast. Grab the captured Crabs and time your flippers to hit an emerging Eel.

SEA of ICE

Iceberg alert! Ursula has frozen the sea, making it slippery swimming for Ariel. Even the Fish are freeze-dried, but when they thaw, they're as vicious as ever.

Eightleggers are also hidden in cavities. Although you can't see them, they're good for 500 points at the end of the stage.

Slipping and Sliding

Slide across the ice and dive in as you bump the Shells into the water. If you're not quick, the Shells will sink.

WACKO WALRUS

The Walrus throws frozen Fish and Shells. Catch the Shells and throw them back at the Walrus.

Move Rocks and Stones

Pushing Rocks and Stones takes Pearl power. It takes two Red Pearls to move Stones, three to push Rocks. Stones can open Treasure Chests and Rocks block access to valuable items, so being able to move them is critical.

UNDERSEA VOLCANO

Ariel jumps from the freezer into the frying pan, leaving the Sea of Ice and entering the Undersea Volcano. It's hot! The Volcanoes spew fireballs, horrible Halibut hide in the sand, and loony Lobsters stage a backwards attack.

New Finned Fiends

Eyeballs in the sand belong to an attacking Hellfish! When you approach, it kicks up sand and flies up. Stay alert!

You've never seen Lobsters like these! Just when you think they're leaving, they shoot backwards to attack.

SINK THE SOLDIER FISH

Abey, matey! Capture the small Fry Fish first from the cannon and leave them right back at the Soldier Fish. He's not as tough as he looks.

Pipes, or SeaTubes, are built with them, and hidden throughout the game. They add up to bonus points at the end of each stage, so collect as many as you can.

URSULA'S CASTLE

THE LITTLE MERMAID

It's easy to get into the maze-like castle; it's getting out that's a problem. Some tunnels are dead ends, others harbor horrible sea creatures, but only one leads to Ursula. Don't take her on until you're ready for a serious fight.

The Eyes Have It

Dragon heads mark the entrances to the different tunnels. To find your way through the maze, order only the mouths of the Dragon with the flashing eyes.

THE SEA WITCH

Ursula spots the fish that hasn't taken her bait and catches and uses them back up at her. You've scored a direct hit while her two taken goals!

URSULA'S NOT FINISHED YET!

You thought you'd beaten her, but all you actually did was rile her up. Now she's really mad! With the power of Triton's trident, Ursula controls even the sea current, which you'll have to negotiate while you fight her. Tame the fierce Fish with your fin flip and fire the Bubbles directly at her triple chin. She'll light up like a pinball machine when you beat her!

Put Up Your Fins And Fight!

- Be well-prepared before you face the wicked witch. Long-range swats and super-powerful Bubbles make the big battle much easier.
- Look for changes in the current. Ursula tries to confuse you by switching its direction suddenly. Watch the candles to see which way it will go.
- Be strong of heart. Hearts are hidden in Ursula's Castle. Collect as many as you can before entering her lair.
- The fish you'll fight are nothing new, but watch for them from both directions. Get them before they get you!

Bill & Ted's EXCELLENT VIDEO GAME adventure™

Bill & Ted's Excellent Video Game Adventure from Acclaim has been anticipated practically since the hit movie made its triumphant appearance. Finally, it's here, and we have some good news and some less good news. First, Bill & Ted won't be disappointed by the video versions of the dudes from Gen. Sissies. The guys look and talk just like their excellent movie selves. In the game, you get to pick different responses for the guys to use when talking to other characters. The story's fun, too. You're out to save historical dudes and babes who don't want to be saved. There are some wacky spots in the game, however, as the Power Meter indicates. It isn't easy failing items, which means you spend ages wandering around, and that's frustrating. Luckily there's a good manual that should help. Control is awkward, too—also a minus. # FUTURE GAMING WITH THE SUPER NINTENDO ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM

HIGH-TECH GAMES FOR A HIGH-TECH SYSTEM

When game designers decide that a game idea will be developed for the Super Nintendo Entertainment System (Super NES), the first thing that they consider is how the new capabilities of the system will work into the design of the game. With the ability to rotate and zoom-in to objects, to manipulate as many as 128 moving characters at once and to present a real-sounding, fully orchestrated soundtrack, the Super NES is more than just a standard NES with better graphics—it's a whole new kind of game system. Here's a closer look at each new feature with examples of how they'll be used in upcoming games.

ROTATION

The Super NES is capable of showing an object and turning it around or even flipping it over as though it existed in the real world. This effect is made possible by a feature that programmers refer to as Mode Seven. One of the programs that most effectively uses Mode Seven Rotation is F-Zero, a futuristic driving game. The effect is nothing short of dramatic when the player-controlled car crashes and the "camera" view moves forward briefly, then rotates 180 degrees to show the burning wreckage. Rotation is also used at the finish line when the "camera" speeds up and turns to show a side view of the track as the player-controlled car races to victory past the competitors.

Nintendo's F-Zero uses rotation to realistically simulate driving through a course of twists and turns and to give a different view of the action as seen in this Switch like crossing scene.

ActRaiser from Enix effectively uses multiple background scrolling, rotation and scaling along with a truly epic soundtrack.

ANIMATION

When foreground objects are manipulated, they are redrawn as many as 60 times per second for smooth animation. While that is no different from the standard NES, the effect is quite dazzling as seen in the high resolution graphics of the new system. The scenes in Super Mario World where Mario grabs onto a fence and flips over to the other side are a good example.

Mario flips to the other side of the fence in this scene from Super Mario World.

SCALING

Previously, when programmers wanted to show an object becoming larger and larger as it approached, they had to draw the object at several different sizes and then present the pictures of the object one at a time like the frames in a movie. The effect was rough at best and it used a lot of precious program memory. With Mode Seven Scaling, though, an object is drawn only once and then manipulated by the Super NES to grow or shrink as it moves in relation to the "camera" view. Pilotwings, a flight simulator, uses scaling to show approaching targets. In the parachuting event, for example, the target grows with alarming realism as the player-controlled character plummets.

Pilotwings from Nintendo uses scaling to present approaching ground targets in several different kinds of flight situations.

PGA Golf, a game that will present several different golf courses on the PGA Circuit, will also use scaling. "The whole effect will be very TV like," says Don Traeger of Electronic Arts in describing the smooth movement of the "camera" view. "You can fly right down to the hole and look at all of the sand traps and lakes as you pass by... it really is a spectacular effect."

BIG CHARACTERS AND LOT OF THEM

Since the Super NES has a resolution of 512 by 448 pixels and characters can be as large as 128 by 128 pixels, you'll see some pretty impressive enemies in games like Gradius III from Konami and Super R-Type from Irem. The enemies will also be able to come out in force, as 128 moving objects can be manipulated at once. "Having lots of sprites really helps," says Jaz Sans, managing director and a programmer at Argonaut in Great Britain. "It allows us to make really big people and robots walk around with no flicker." Sans is working on a number of games that will feature large and numerous moving objects.

Konami's Gradius III makes full use of the ability of the Super NES to present large and detailed moving creatures.

COLOR LAYERING

One of the projects that Sans and his fellow game designers at Argonaut are working on is a comic space adventure tentatively titled Demolition. While Sans is wary not to over use some Super NES effects that will be frequently featured in other games, Demolition will employ Color Layering, an effect that allows transparent objects to overlap solid objects. "No machine has had transparency before," Sans explained. Using this effect, the character in the game can walk behind an object and the player will still be able to see what the character is doing. Demolition will also employ a mosaic effect that works for smooth transitions between scenes.

These scenes from Super Mario World show transparent objects through the color layering effect that will also be used in Demolition.

MULTIPLE SCROLLING BACKGROUNDS

To create a feeling of depth in side view action scenes, the Super NES allows for three backgrounds to scroll independently. This allows for the effect that you experience in real life when you're riding in a car and mountains in the distance pass by slowly, while objects on the side of the road pass by quickly.

Note that the objects in the distance have moved only slightly in these two photos, while objects in the foreground have moved the length of the screen.

SOUND

One of the abilities that can be acquired in Actraiser from Enix is called "The Gift of Music." It's an appropriate phrase because the Super NES really does have a gift for presenting music and sound effects that sound as real as anything that you can hear on television. When the soundtrack is combined with the clarity and colors of the graphics and all of the great Super NES features, the effect is so stunning that it's like you are controlling the events in an interactive movie!

Who Framed ROGER RABBIT™

Capcom's Who Framed Roger Rabbit for Game Boy plunges you headlong into the weird and wild world of 'toons. The entire cast from Disney's blockbuster is included: Roger and Jessica Rabbit, Eddie Valiant, Judge Doom, Baby Herman and the wicked Weasels. This time Jessica has been bunnynapped and Roger is, understandably, a nervous wrrrrreck. A Password lets you return to Toontown anytime; and who could resist that?

N N N NOW I'm really
M M Mad!
My Jjjessica's been kid-
jacked, hi-napped, impppprisoned and I don't know what else! I'm not going to take it anymore. Judge Doom.
I want Yyyou!

Need Directions To The Ink & Paint Club?

If you're new to Toontown you might want to look below for help.

Leave the Studio, walk one block east to the alley. Head south to the intersection, then walk east until you reach the alley beyond Valiant's office. Go up the alley. Some people in front of the Ink & Paint Club tell you to see Delores. Go back down the alley, turn west and take the first street heading south. Delores is in the first building to the left. She'll tell you how to get the password. Get it and return to the Ink & Paint Club.

The Weasels

These are the worst weasels in town, and you'll have to handle them all if you want to get Jessica back. Nope, you can't weasel out of this one.

Smartguy

Where Do You Go When The Troil's Cold?

1 It's time to check in with ace detective Eddie Valiant. He talks tough, but he's soft on 'toons.

2 Try going back to buildings that used to be locked. Someone might have opened up for business by now.

I hope Roger hurries.

I may only be a drawing, but these shoes are killing me and that's nothing compared to what Judge Doom does with 'toons.

Save Toontown...

When In Toontown...

Sometimes you've got to think like a 'toon to get anywhere in this town. If you find a strange door, chances are it has a strange purpose.

The Talk Of The 'Toons

Yeah, so 'toons tend to talk your ear off. Listen anyway. You can always get someone to stretch in a new ear lobe, and you might learn something.

Run, Roger, Run

Don't forget you're only a few peeps, wimpy rabbit and your enemies are about as friendly as weasels. In fact, they are weasels, so opt out!

The All Carrot Diet

Feeling a bit empty? Loving heart? Eating a bit less so energy and life? Try the new miracle food-carrot! Follies has a gardenful as the grand floor.

Use Extreme Caution

What does a normal 'toon do when he sees something lying around? Yep, he picks it up immediately, stuffs it, paws at the burning hole and plops it in his pocket. Life is a thrill a second in Toontown, so do as the 'toons do.

Famous Toons

You wouldn't want to miss meeting a star like Baby Herman. Catch him in Valiant's office.

Don't Miss These Points Of Interest

D5 R.K. Maroon Studios

When you visit R.K. Maroon Studios, be sure to chat with the filmmakers, who seem to know something about everything that happens in this town. Don't be shy; just step right up and listen closely. Your tour wouldn't be complete unless you got a call on the phone, either. When it rings, pick it up. It could be a star or an out-of-work agent. Who knows? Remember to stop by if you have nothing else to do.

It all started here, at the Studio. Under the bright lights and cameras, "breakdown" grew from an idea and a smidge of ink to the city of today.

D4/E4 The Factory

The Factory north of the Studio is a bustling, industrial complex. At times it is closed to tours due to unforeseen explosions.

You'll definitely want to stop and see Marvin in the lead office, which can be reached through a private entrance.

F6 Valliant & Valiant

The famous detective, Eddie Valliant, operates out of this beautiful, two-story building.

If you have a case for Mr. Valliant, or if you just stop by to say hello, don't forget to partake of the free buffet downstairs. Carrot canals sort from around the world also regularly at Valliant's. They say it gives them heat.

? Ink & Paint Club

Drop in for the floor show at the best underground nightclub in town. This club isn't for everyone, though. The word on the streets is that you have to use a password just to get inside where Jessica Rabbit thrills the toonful crowd. Talk about your exclusive engagements.

A8/J8 Red Line Streetcar

It's not safe to walk in some parts of town. Luckily there's the Red Line, which takes you in safety and comfort.

B7 Old Time Bar

Come on in and meet the colorful regulars at the Old Time Bar. They'll be happy to talk to almost anyone, as long as they're not greasy that is. These locals know all the best places in town for fun and games.

B4 Toon Tower

No trip to Toontown would be complete without a visit to the tallest building this side of Hollywood. Located in the fashionable west end, Toon Tower has six floors of incredible bargains—all you have to do is find them. And you won't want to miss the spectacular view from the roof where you can see the two favorite 'toon pastimes, balloon riding and balloon popping.

J1 Judge Doom's Mansion

The Judge's Mansion is open by invitation only.

The ferocious, heavily armed guards outside are merely a formality.

So you'll

ESPAÑOL
INGLÉS

If you're going to a Spanish-speaking country and your Spanish is limited to words like taco, tamale and tortilla, the Language Translator is the perfect traveling companion. It quickly converts metric measurements and currency amounts, and it knows the common words and phrases that you'll encounter daily. It's your friend on wheels.

First, decide whether you want to translate from English to Spanish or Spanish to English and make your selection. Both modes will come in handy.

When you have the English word hot set out the Spanish, select the English to Spanish mode and use the keyboard to type the word. The Spanish translation will be displayed.

When you encounter Spanish words that are unfamiliar, use the Spanish to English mode to find their meanings. Type "mercado" then wait for its translation, "market," to appear.

Parlez-vous Français? (Do you speak French?) If not, take Game Boy and the InfoGenius French-English Language Translator with you when you travel. It's always challenging to try to communicate in a country's native language, but the InfoGenius Language Translators make it fun and simple.

The French-English Language Translator has the same features that make the Spanish-English Translator so helpful. It includes many of the same basic phrases, ranging from common greetings to phrases for handling emergencies, going shopping, and arranging accommodations and transportation.

The Conversion option is one of the Language Translator's most useful features. With it, you can convert currency and metric measurements.

Using the currency converter puts an end to worrying about how much something costs. You can use it to find the value, more quickly and easily, which makes shopping much more fun and doing odd jobs effortless.

The metric converter quickly translates degrees centigrade to degrees Fahrenheit, which comes in handy when you're planning dress and activities based on a weather forecast. And if you think in terms of miles and miles per hour instead of kilometers you'll need to see the InfoGenius.

Single-bullet packs add ammo to your Pistol. Make sure that you fire enough shots to defeat your enemies.

Automatic

Collect a Double-Bullet pack and you'll be able to reload 30 empty-dropping Machine Gun shots.

Time

Clocks allow you more mission time. Collect them whenever possible and keep fighting.

Sniper

You'll get much needed back-up by selecting a Lightbulb Bell. Use it to take down large attacks.

Mission One Find The Enemy Hideout

One

The helicopter crew is being held near the seaport. Seek out the hideout entrance, but proceed with caution as the seaport is heavily guarded. Enemy lookouts will attack when they see you. Try to sneak by and pick up special items along the way. Also, check out the strategies for the lettered areas on the map.

Call A Specialist

If enemies surround you, call in a Sniper and they'll all go down.

The special Sniper item will allow you to clear the immediate area.

START

Bonus Points

Uncover the contents of this crate and you'll receive 500 points. You're on the right track.

END

Falling Flooring

When you touch this point, the flooring drops. Sneak!

A Before you leap up to the ledge, observe the enemy above and wait until he moves a few steps to the right. Then jump, pull up, turn to the right and fire twice before the enemy knows that you're there.

B Don't worry about the enemy below. Just fire twice to the right across the gap to take out the enemy on the next platform and keep moving.

C This area is surrounded by enemies. If you don't want to run up a call to the Sniper, just follow these steps to clear the area.

Select the Machine Gun Ammo for super firepower as soon as possible.

Don't worry about the enemies on your level, just jump straight up.

Defeat the enemy to the left and quickly jump the gap before the door opens.

Jump up to the next level and work to the left to pick up a Sniper option.

D Take a long jump from the platform and aim for the second barrel from the top. If you land short, you'll be knocked off by an enemy walking below.

E Well, well! The enemy below you walks away. Then, without jumping, drop to the right and fire.

F Don't jump as you drop to the right off the crate. If you do, you'll miss the ledge and the long fall will knock you out.

Mission Two

Save The Helicopter Crew

You've found the enemy hideout in a remote area of the seaport. Now, you must enter and seek out the helicopter crew. This sector is extremely dangerous. The enemies are out in force and there are a number of traps. Some sections of the ceiling are set to drop on intruders (see green circles below) and some areas of the floor are lined with spikes.

A Stop as soon as you see the door. Turn left and take out an approaching enemy, turn to the right and shoot another one coming out of the door and wait for another to drop.

B Clear the enemies off the platform to the right. Then jump with crates over the spikes.

C The upper and lower doors lead to the same place. Drop to the lower level and collect the valuable items.

D The enemies come out in force here. Follow the steps and watch out!

Run until you're on top of the second crate, fire to the left and watch for the enemy below to jump up.

Jump up to the left, aim to the right and fire twice at the enemy on the ledge.

Jump in the ledge on the right, wait for the enemy to drop and take him down.

E

Jump up and climb to the ledge. Then fire twice to the right as the enemy charges to clear the path to the enemy.

F Drop to the area between the doors and be ready for enemies to charge from the left and right.

G The ceiling above the ledge on the right is loose. Jump to collect the Pelets, but beware.

H Wait for the enemy below to pass. Then drop, surprise him with a barrage and collect the Pelets.

I Wait for the enemy to drop from the pit for an enemy to appear. Then fire twice to the right and jump.

J Wait for the enemy to drop from the wall. Then hit him before he charges.

K Be patient! There's an enemy that's above. Wait for him to drop and the catch.

L Hit the enemy once and he'll be down, but not out. Wait for him to charge again, then fix.

M There are enemies behind the door and there's also one on the crate. Wait for them to attack, then take them on one at a time.

N When you enter this area, you'll see an enemy on the platform above. Wait for him to drop. Then jump up and collect the clock.

O Jump to the left, just short of the platform and move further to the left so you land on the item-packed ledge.

P Jump to the left directly from the crate. You'll land on the ledge. Then wait for the enemy below to move before you drop.

Q Lean down and drop off the platform. Then, as you fall, move to the right so that you land on the platform and avoid the spikes.

R Be sure to get the two 1-UPS here before you go through this door. You can't go back for them later if you forget, so get them now.

Victory! You've saved the crew! Now, you've got to continue and stop the delivery of a load of stolen Stinger Missiles.

Mission Three

New Intelligence tells you that the missiles are onboard a ship headed for Latoken. Stop it before it arrives.

Mission Four

The ship was a decoy! The missile crates were full of sand. You've got to find out where the missiles really have gone.

Mission Five

An informant tells you of the missile's location. Find them before the enemies can carry out their foul plans.

Train For Your Mission

A special feature of the game allows you to train in any of the first four missions before you go out for real. In order to get to Mission Five, you'll have to start from the beginning and fight to the end!

DICK TRACY™

THE SEARCH BEGINS STAGE 1-1

The streets are crawling with Big Boy's trigger men. Let them know who's in charge and follow the trail to Shoulders, the last hood to pay Big Boy a visit in the slammer.

Daily Paper BIG BOY ESCAPES

Detective Tracy is on the Case

The notorious crime boss, Big Boy Caprice, has checked out early from the state pen and now the city is in the midst of the biggest crime spree it has ever known. Bandai's Dick Tracy follows the famous detective as he takes a new case and attempts to put an end to Big Boy's reign. Take Tracy through five stages of fist-clenching action and follow Big Boy's thugs to the man himself. It's curtains for Caprice!

STRENGTH

Beat Big Boy's thugs and search dark corners to earn items that will give you energy and extra time.

WEAPONS

While you would be able to solve this case with your sharp wits and strong fists alone, it does pay to look for high-caliber help, like Tommy Guns and Grenades, along the way.

CLUES

In each stage, there are 12 torn bits of photographs that will give you a lead on Big Boy's location. Put them together like the pieces of a puzzle and stay on the trail.

HAND GRENADE

TEAR GAS

TOMMY GUN

PISTOL

DICK TRACY'S DETECTIVE TIPS

There are hoodlums in every section of the city. The only way that you'll be able to nail them down and stay alive is by following the advice of the cautious crime detective.

Make sure that you punch beams, trash cans and like to access special items.

You have only a short supply of ammunition. Use your weapons strictly as a last resort.

Big Boy's henchmen drop furniture from tall buildings and toss heavy shoulderers in an effort to take you out of the picture. Stay on your feet!

THE PATH TO CAPRICE

The only way to get to Caprice is through his henchmen. Find out where they are and give them incentive to disclose the location of Big Boy's Level 5 hideout.

Level 2

This door is meant up with some tough thugs in the hallway. Track him down and take him to the questioning.

Level 3

Your search for Big Boy takes you to a meeting in the play with Princess. Don't get cocked.

Level 4

The Club Kite is a common acquisition of Big Boy's. Finding and his gang are there to give you a receipt.

THE MOST WANTED LIST

Study these thugs and know their incline so that you'll be able to show them the long end of the law. They can run but they can't hide when Detective Dick Tracy is on the case.

SHOULDERS

This wide-brimmed hoodlum tosses tires from the top of a building. Track him a lesson with your Tommy Gun.

THE BROW

You'll meet the brown face-to-face at the trainyard. Jump out of the way as he charges and counter with your fists.

PRUNEYE

This wicked gangster will try to take you down with grenades. Hit him with your Stinger between blasts.

FLAT TOP

Big Boy's right-hand man is master with a machine gun. Avoid the stream of bullets or you'll be flattened.

BIG BOY CAPRICE

You'll be under heavy attack when you take on the underworld leader. Watch out for several forms of fists.

EXIT

CALLING
 DICK TRACY!

When you've got a password, you can use it Tracy's two-way walkie-talkie and you'll be on your way to where you left off. If the password is incorrect, the radio will tune into a local radio station.

Altered Space™

A 3-DALIEN ADVENTURE

ABDUCTED BY ALIENS!!

Meet Humphrey, whose trip to Mars has been interrupted by a mechanical failure. When he ventures out to repair his ship, he is surprised by unearthly creatures, Zaks, who capture him for their zoo. He hacks into their computer system to discover that his only chance to escape lies in the capsule at the top of the ship. To reach it from his cell in the hold, though, he must pass the Zaks and their droids.

Alien Air

Help Humphrey maintain his air supply and make it to the distant capsule.

Humphrey can't breathe the Zaks' air, so he has to find and carry his own! Pick up Air Tanks as you make your way through the tight levels of the alien rocket ship.

Unfriendly Aliens

Humphrey will meet two types of alien creatures in his travels: wardenlike Zaks and Garffs.

The Zaks take half of Humphrey's air when they capture him.

Spherical Garffs like to loiter around and sleep in high places.

Dutiful Droid Servants

The Zaks employ nine different types of servant droids, with varied functions and movements.

Each droid will reduce some of Humphrey's precious air supply, should they touch him. Humphrey can use some of the droids to help him get through certain rooms.

Level 1: The Hold

What better place for the Zaks to imprison their captives? Humphrey begins his ascent to freedom in the capsule at the top of the ship from his cell here in its lowest level.

Particle Disruptor!

This useful little item will "disrupt" and wipe out almost everything in the room.

Leap gracefully into the airways and grab the Particle Disruptor while avoiding the spiked ball.

WARP!!

Warps are found in various parts of the ship. They will warp our boy Humphrey either up or down levels.

These warps will allow Humphrey to move rapidly between the levels—some helpfully obliquing him ahead, others warping him back one level or more. This warp goes to the third level, the Crystal

Ride the Wild Droid!

Humphrey might try enlisting the aid of the resident droid.

When the droid walks nearby, jump over and land on the unsuspecting administrator's head. Catch a ride across those deadly floors!

Hidden Blocks

Some rooms have invisible blocks to land on.

In any corner? Well, in the left, there jumps up to reveal a hidden hidden block!

Item Storage Room

It looks like the Zaks have their closets also, for all those miscellaneous extra items...

Doesn't all of this stuff look interesting? It's only a tease—Humphrey can't land a way to get at any of it!

Level 2: Engineering

The Zaks' engines, located here in Engineering, are monitored constantly. Humphrey can't actually get to the engines, but he does take a good look around at the engine area as he passes through on his way to the next level, the Cryodeck.

Useful Particle Disruptor

If he still has the Particle Disruptor from Level 1, Humphrey doesn't need this one.

Unattainable Circuit Breaker!

This Circuit Breaker is nice to have, but nearly impossible to get.

Use this block to jump the droid!

Work the dust and block into Humphrey's cell to keep up in this Particle Disruptor.

Hop around with a block!

Humphrey can use a block to hop over or around a pesky droid.

Go around this droid. Jump, drop a block in mid air to make a platform, and jump again.

Hop on a helpful Alien!

Humphrey must have a Particle Disruptor to free this trapped Garff, which will then help him.

After using the Disruptor to free the Garff, wait for it to hop through the hole. Then hop on the Garff and jump over the wall!

Circle Jump

If he's quick, Humphrey can even jump around corner obstacles without the help of a block.

When this droid is in the corner, quickly jump around it to reach the other side. This trick will save some inventory later.

Which way for the Air Tanks?

Only one route in this area leads to these valuable Air Tanks!

The key lies in entering through the door on the right. Humphrey can reach the wrong block (and the Air Tanks) only from the right corner platform.

Level 3: Cryodeck

Who knows what strange purposes the Zaks have for the freezing facilities located on this level! Humphrey hopefully won't find out, if he can keep away from the Zaks and their droids. Explore carefully to find the elevator that leads up to the Transporter Level.

Test for a Spaceman

Humphrey's going to need every bit of his astronaut's ability to get through this room!

It's a tough trick to keep Humphrey from falling into the open from the conveyor belts and droids.

Levels 4 Through 8 Still Lie Ahead!

Level 4: Transporters

The Zak's transporter units are located here, but Humphrey can't get to them. That's ok, Humphrey doesn't have any places to transport to anyway!

Level 5: Recreation

Relax here, and the next level fast!

This is where the Zaks like to hang out during their off time, perhaps to play a game of "Zakball". Don't

Level 6: The Galley

Zaks head down here when they have the reaction. It's too bad that Humphrey isn't able to eat any of their type of food.

Level 7: Crew's Quarters

Living areas for the Zaks—Humphrey needs to be very careful not to disturb any of them so he quietly passes by. Shhh...

Level 8: Control Bridge

The Zaks control their entire ship from here. All Humphrey needs to do now is find the elevator up to the escape capsule!

Good luck Humphrey! You'll need to use all of your astronaut skills to make your escape!

BLADES OF STEEL™

At last! Ice Hockey finally becomes portable, as Ultra brings the NES classic Blades of Steel to your Game Boy. With all the body-checking, ice-pounding excitement of the original, you'll slide, slip, slap and slam, as you attack the other team's goal. Then battle on to victory and the Cup against some of the most challenging teams that ever slapped a puck!

SELECT A GAME

Choose Practice to brush up on your fighting skills or your goal tending and penalty shot techniques. Pick Exhibition to play a practice game against another team, or select Tournament to take up the challenge and go all-out against the seven other teams competing for the Championship Cup!

Practice

Use this mode to test your fighting mettle, practice your penalty shot attempts, and to see how well you can protect your goal from your opponent's sneaky slap shots. Practice hard, and be sure to master all three skills—you'll need them!

Penalty shot practice will help you gain valuable goal tending and shooting experience.

"B" punches and "A" blocks as you duke it out with your rival. A few solid jabs will knock them out, double-quick!

Exhibition

Exhibition games are your opportunities to get in a little practice against the other seven teams that are also competing for the Cup. While you're roughin' it up on the ice, be sure to observe the other teams to see how each likes to play.

Pick a team from among the eight contenders—you'll find that each team plays differently and has different strengths and weaknesses.

Choose one of three difficulty levels: Junior, College, and Pro. Junior is easiest, College tougher, and Pro is for "Post-collegiate!"

Tournament

The Tournament is your chance to vie with the seven other teams for the Championship Cup. All eight contending teams compete on a single elimination ladder that is randomly arranged by the computer. Use what you learned in Exhibition to take the Cup!

Only the computer teams which teams you will play are your rivals in the Cup, so study every team well!

To get a feel for Tournament play, start in the Junior League and graduate to College. Pro League will challenge even the best hockey fan!

Two-player mode

Challenge a buddy to a friendly game of frenzied hockey. Pick your teams, line up, and make a quick swipe for the puck as the ref drops it into play. Battle it out to see who's better at cuttin' up on the ice and at wielding the stick to keep that elusive puck sliding across the ice, into the goal!

Fast and frantic two-player, head-to-head ice hockey!

Be quick to pick your favorite team—leave your rival second choice!

TONIGHT ONLY YOUR TEAM CHALLENGES FOR THE CUP!

NEW YORK

New York is easily balanced, demonstrating average skills in speed, power, agility and teamwork, and no standout strengths or weaknesses.

TORONTO

Toronto offers good power and speed and maintains a calm, tight offensive front. Look for gaps in its defense that will allow an agile adversary to slip through with the puck!

VANCOUVER

Vancouver's advantage is its mighty shot strength, which will definitely keep your goalie working to protect the goal. Try to play "keep away" as you rush their goal!

CHICAGO

The Chicago team's skill is quick skating speed and good teamwork, but not a great deal of shooting strength. Still, they'll keep you moving to keep up with the puck.

MINNESOTA

With an weak points to speak of, Minnesota has excellent speed, style, and awesome puck handling talents that make them a strong contender for the Cup.

LOS ANGELES

LA isn't the catchiest team, but it has good puck handlers. LA players believe that hockey is a contact sport—they love to run, slam, and body-check their opponents!

MONTREAL

Quick off the line, agile, and strong, Montreal seizes every chance to grab the puck and score its players get right in your face and even fight to take the puck away!

EDMONTON

Edmonton is proud of its shooting prowess, and the players love to show it off. Keep an eye on its loose offense, and watch for a chance to snag the puck.

TOURNAMENT PLAY

Be sure to choose the team you know best. Remember, each team has different strong and weak areas, so try to capitalize on your talents and compensate for your weak areas. Use the other team's strengths and shortcomings to your best advantage. Every edge you can get will move you closer to the Cup!

Teamwork!

When you find yourself surrounded with nowhere left to skate, quickly look around for an open teammate and pass the puck over to him!

Beefs 'em so you pass the puck from one to the next. One rush is for the score!

Skate in front of the goalie, past the goal. He'll follow you to protect that side of the goal.

Now whip around, skate back past him, and flip the puck into the open area for the score!

Watch the Arrow!

When a rival rushes your goal intent on slamming the puck through into the net, watch the arrow that indicates where he is aiming. Stay between him and the arrow and try to block the shot!

The arrow tells the shot goalie where the puck will come flying at the goal...

... giving him the chance to sneak the puck into the goal! Intercept the goalie and pass it to his teammates!

Fly Through A Wall

Early in Stage Five, the screen scrolls to the left and you must choose to fly on either the top half or the bottom half of the screen. The bottom half turns out to be a dead end. Our Agents have found, though, that you can escape from this dead end by flying through the wall on the left. Move your character so that he is in the lower left corner. Then press and hold Down and Left on the Control Pad. As the screen continues to scroll, your character will be pushed to the left and fly through the wall!

Press and hold Down and Left to fly through this dead end in Stage Five.

PLAYING

In this issue's focus on games that didn't quite rate feature coverage, we look at a great new video pinball game, a new twist on all-star baseball and a unique drawing program. Check 'em out and see if any of them spark your interest.

HIGH SPEED

Video pinball doesn't get any better than this! Trade-wear's High Speed is a perfect NES translation of the hottest pinball game around. The same design team that brought Pinbot to the NES, Rare, also created the NES version of High Speed. Like Pinbot, High Speed has a split screen that lets you keep track of both the flippers and the ball at all times.

PINBALL WITH ALL THE EXTRAS

High Speed for the NES duplicates its pinball predecessor right down to the last bumper and digitized voice. It also offers some extras. Helicopter, Safe and Money symbols appear on the playing field and if you can hit them with the ball, you can earn bonuses. Hit three Helicopters or Safe symbols and you'll be able to collect special items in two different bonus games.

Another new invention for the NES version is a set of enemy characters that can change the course of the ball or destroy the flippers. Hit the buttons to shake them off, but try not to tilt! This game has everything that real pinball has and a whole lot more!

LEGENDS OF THE DIAMOND

Play Ball With Hall of Famers

Thirty of Baseball's best players return to the field in Bandai's Legends of the Diamond. While there are a lot of Baseball games for the NES, this is the first one that allows you to make a dream team of stars from the past with the same career stats and the same strengths. Tournament play pits your team against a field of computer generated no-names. Official Game play for one or two players lets you face-off with the Hall of Famers that you didn't include in your squad. While you choose your team, the players will tell you how they're feeling so that you can pick the ones that are on streaks and pass by the players that are experiencing slumps.

Pick them when they're doing well and let them rest when they feel a slump coming on.

Choose from two different stadiums and weather conditions.

Play ball with a dream match-up of Baseball's best.

OVER HORIZON

Set up Your Weapons System

While there are dozens of space shoot-'em-ups for the NES, none has customized spaceship weapons like Over Horizon from Hot-B. You decide what the strengths of your weapons will be and the positions of two satellite options. And the set-up had better be to your liking, because with it, you'll have to survive six stages of weird alien creatures and tricky outer space traps. If one weapons system configuration doesn't work for you, you can go back to the drawing board and try again.

You have points to spend on two different weapon features.

Place the satellite like Optima where you think they'll be most useful.

Test the configuration of your weapons system before you start playing.

Six Alien Infested Stages

STAGE 1

Plant creatures have taken over outer space. Blast your way through this thick alien vegetation and try to cut it off at the roots.

STAGE 2

The Stage 2 power center is reinforced with guns and cannons. The blue transformers are key. Destroy them and you'll open the space gates.

This insect-like creature releases groups of smaller aliens. Avoid them and aim for the leader.

The huge mechanical in this stage moves quickly around the area and controls barriers between the outposts. Hooping weapons are effective here.

STAGE 3

Ice blocks are all over this cold cavern. Fire on them and they'll melt out of the way.

STAGE 4

The living rocks of the Stage 4 space cave send out giant flames. Watch out.

STAGE 5

Take a dive into this weird water world and clear your way through the creatures at the deep.

STAGE 6

The last battle takes place outside a huge enemy ship and inside a strange alien retreat.

VIDEOIMATION

Stretching the limits of what you've come to expect from an NES program, THQ's Videomation is not a game in the traditional sense. It's more of a drawing and animation workshop. With it, you can create original art using video pens and paint brushes, call up pre-drawn "stamps" and add animated characters to your drawings that help make your art come to life.

With some practice, you can create dazzling drawings like these.

Master The Tools

lines, some work well for curves and others are more free form.

A work in progress: make shapes and fill them with color.

In addition to your own designs, you can add pre-drawn stamps and any of eight moving characters. And, when your work is complete, you can hook up a VCR to your NES and tape your moving art so that it lives on long after you've created other masterpieces.

COUNSELORS' CORNER!

DÉJÀ VU HOW DO I LEAVE BEHIND THE GUNS?

It wouldn't look good to the authorities if you were caught holding the murder weapons. You'd better ditch them in the deepest part of the sewer. Before you're able to leave them, though, you'll have to use the guns for three important tasks.

The bungalow on Kadzie will be one of your stops. The only way that you're going to gain entrance is by blowing the lock off the door. You'll also want to blast open the filing cabinet in Dr. Brody's office. And, it will pay to be armed while confronting the hit man in your (Ace Harding's) office. Don't wait until you enter the office. Just fire through the window. Once you've gone through these three episodes, you'll have no other use for the firearms.

You'll never find the keys. You might as well blast the lock.

For a shot at Dr. Brody's cabinet to access the files.

Shoot through the office window and catch the hit man off guard.

DÉJÀ VU HOW DO I KEEP FROM PASSING OUT IN ACE'S OFFICE?

You'll need Dr. Brody's cure to wake up and realize that you really are Ace Harding. Entering your own office is too over-powering in your present state. There are items called "Medic 6" in Dr. Brody's office and there are some capsules in the wastebasket of the third floor room of the first building. Use Medic 6 on each capsule and, in turn, use each capsule on yourself. You'll snap out of it after three doses. Then you can put the final pieces of the puzzle together.

You'll find some capsules in the wastebasket of this weird room.

Take three capsules after using each one with the patient Medic 6.

You've been falsely accused of murder. There are three documents which you will have to examine and several items which you'll have to burn or leave behind before the truth will be known. Make sure that you look at a diary in the Kadzie Bungalow and use a pencil on the memo which you'll find in the guest bedroom at the mansion on Auburn Road. You'll also want to examine a letter (Letter 1) which you'll find inside an envelope (Envelope 2) in the mailbox at the mansion. The items which you will want to do away with are the map, the folder with Note 1, the Bill, File 5, all guns and the Sunglasses.

Read the diary in the bungalow and collect some important witnesses.

Take a close look at the memo in the mansion guest room by using a pencil as it.

Get the envelope from the mailbox and read the letter inside. It will be enlightening.

THE LEGEND OF ZELDA

You'll walk away with a bundle to purchase valuable items if you can outsmart the proprietor of the money-making game. Make sure that you have a Bomb and at least 10 Rupies. Walk one screen left of the starting point and bomb the wall to get into the hidden cave. Then pause the game by pressing the Start Button on Controller I. Then, on Controller II, press the A Button and Up on the Control Pad. This "Quick End" maneuver will allow you the option to Save, Continue or Retry. Save the game and start again. Then enter the cave, play the money-making game and use the Quick End maneuver once more. If you won the money-making game, save your progress. If you lost, retry and use the same

HOW DO I RIG THE MONEY MAKING GAME?

10 Rupies for another chance to win. You could earn 255 Rupies!

Save your progress when you win the money-making game and retry when you lose.

Your first test of skill and strength in this long adventure will be saving the princess from the guardian of the Gelve Tower. A villager in Somusa will tell you that there are three stone statues in the tower. There's also a statue at the tower gate. You'll be able to open certain doors inside the tower by standing to the left of these statues and pushing them to the right. If you leave the tower and return, the doors that you previously opened will be closed. In order to save the princess then, you will have to be strong enough to explore the entire tower without leaving. Defeat enemies in the surrounding area until you are at an experience level of at least five or higher before you begin your mission. Then journey to the tower, push the statue outside of the gate and enter the first room.

Enter the Gelve Tower by pushing the statue outside of the gate to the right.

TO THE FIRST STATUE

From the first room in the tower, walk five rooms to the right, two rooms up, one room to the right and three rooms down. You'll see a stairway to the second floor. Climb the stairs and walk two rooms up, one room to the left, one room down and one room to the left again. You'll have made it to the first statue.

TO THE SECOND STATUE

By pushing the first statue, you'll open a number of doors on the first floor. From the statue, walk one room down and two rooms to the right. Then climb down the stairs to the first floor, walk three rooms up, six rooms to the left, one room up, one room to the left again and one more room up. You'll see another stairway to the second floor. Climb the stairs and walk to the right side of the room. A passage will open when you touch the wall. From there, walk three rooms to the right and one room down to another stairway. Climb down the stairs, walk one room to the right and climb up another set of stairs. Then walk one room up to the second statue.

Touch the right wall in this room on the second floor to reveal a hidden passage.

TO THE THIRD STATUE

You'll open a key door on the second floor by pushing the second statue. Once you perform this task, walk one room down to a stairway, climb the stairs down, walk one room to the left and another room down. You'll find yourself at a new set of stairs. Climb up the stairs, walk one room down, three rooms to the left and two rooms down to the third statue.

TO THE PRINCESS

Once you've pushed the third statue, walk two rooms up, three rooms to the right and one room up to a stairway. Climb down the stairs, move one room to the right and climb up another set of stairs. From there, walk one room down, one room to the right and four rooms up to the guardian of the tower. The guardian will be easy to defeat if you avoid direct contact. Just keep moving and jabbing and you'll make short order of this fiend. Once the guardian is gone, you'll be able to walk one room up to the princess. Take her back to the king in the castle and he will calm the waters of the sea so that you can hire a ship in the harbor and continue your journey.

Run from the guardian of the tower and hit it with your sword when you have a chance.

The princess is one room up from the guardian. Take her back to the king.

Once you save the princess, you'll have a new quest and the sea will be calm for sailing.

PUZZNIC

HOW DO I COMPLETE LEVEL 12-6?

This challenger has a number of tricky puzzles. Level 12-6 (photo 1) is difficult because it requires fast reflexes. First move the Cube on the right one space to the left (photo 2). By doing so, you'll cancel out both Cubes. Next, move the grey Grid on the left one space to the left (photo 3). The field will then be set for the key move. Wait for the elevator to reach the bottom of the playing field. Then, just a fraction of a second after it begins to ascend, move the top grey Grid to the right and onto the elevator (photo 4). Before the elevator comes down, quickly move the top blue Shield to the right (photo 5). It will drop under the elevator and cancel out all three of the Shields. Finally, move both grey Grids on the ground one space to the right each (starting with the Grid on the right) and move the Grid on the elevator on space to the left (photo 6). It will land between the other Grids and cancel them out. Clear!

HOW DO I COMPLETE LEVEL 16-9?

Level 16-9 (photo 1) is nearly the last Puzznic puzzle. To clear this level, first move the Cube one space to the right and cancel it out with another Cube. Then move the top grey Grid one space to the right and cancel out two others (photo 2). There's a blue Shield under the top red Plus. Move it one space to the right and move the Plus one space to the left so that it will fall under the elevator and cancel out the other Plus (photo 3). Next, move the blue Shield on the elevator one space to the right and move the green Cube on the elevator three spaces to the right to cancel out another Cube. Then move the grey Grid on the right one space to the right onto the elevator and two more spaces to the right so that it is on top of the middle Shield (photo 4). Next move the Grid on the left two spaces to the right so that it is exactly where the other Grid was and move the Cube on the left three spaces to the right, onto the elevator, and one more space to the right so that it is on top of the left Shield (photo 5). Then move the left Shield one space to the left, onto the elevator, and three spaces to the right so that it cancels out the other two Shields (photo 6). Finally, move the Grid on the left one space to the right, onto the elevator, and two more spaces to the right so that it cancel out the other grid and move the Cube on the right one space to the left, under the elevator so that is cancels out the other Cube and clears the screen!

CELEBRITY PROFILE

MARSHA WARFIELD

Marsha Warfield doesn't mince words. As the witty and sharp-tongued bailiff, Roz, on the popular courtroom comedy "Night Court," she tells it like it is.

Marsha says that there are many similarities between Roz and herself, but she's more playful in real life than her character. "Take, for instance, Nintendo," says Marsha of her favorite pastime. "I don't think Roz could get into Super Mario Bros. 3 like I do."

Even though Marsha plays Super Mario Bros. 3 every chance she gets, she still hasn't been able to rescue the Princess. "Mario 3 is great because it's like making up your own cartoon as you go along." But, she jokes, "I've given was young, she would dare her friends to do outrageous things. But when it came to performing, it was Marsha who took a dare from her friends to try out for an amateur comedy showcase. She never figured that it would be the beginning of her career as a stand-up comic. "After all," she laughs, "stand-up wasn't exactly something they talked about on career day."

Marsha quickly became one of the hottest comedians in the country, headlining at various county clubs, college campuses and as the opening act for stars such as Chuck Berry and the O'Jays.

Marsha built upon her early success with roles in "Riptide," "D.C. Cab," "Caddyshack II," and co-starred with Cher in "Mask." It was after this that she won her role on "Night Court," for which she is best known.

Marsha says she has great relationships with her co-stars on "Night Court," especially when they play Nintendo games together. During breaks in taping, the cast lines up to take turns at Game Boy. "Markie Post and I have had some pretty heated competitions," says Marsha. "She's challenged me to a Game Link competition on Tetris next season. But she'd better be ready because I'm going to get the big rocket ship to appear!"

According to Marsha, "Night Court's" Harry Anderson and John Larroquet are also devoted Game Boy fans. John's favorite game is Super Mario Land, which he likes to start in the middle of. But Markie, Harry and John aren't the only people on the show who like to play. "It's hard to hold on to a Game Boy on the set," Marsha says. "Anytime you set it down, someone immediately picks it up to play."

Marsha says her favorite game at the moment is Super Mario Bros. 3, and offers the following advice: "Get the magic whistles as quickly as possible and skip the worlds you're not good at." As for her ultimate video game, Marsha says it would include playing around with words and (what else)—jokes!

up trying to get through World 8. And forget about trying to find the Princess—I don't think she really exists!"

Joking has always been a big part of Marsha's life. When she

A LOOK INTO THE
FUTURE OF NES
GAME PAKS!!

You've probably read our super preview of Super FamiCom and Super NES software in this issue, but don't think for a minute that that's the only place for video game excitement. Check out what's coming for the Nintendo Entertainment System!

DEFENDERS OF DYNATRON CITY

Although super hero titles are not new to the NES, most of the games that have appeared so far haven't quite captured the spirit of the heroes they are based on. Defenders Of Dynatron City stars a group of unusual super heroes created especially by Lucasfilm Games for the game and designed to capture the essence of American comic book super heroes.

The new heroes inhabit and protect the mutant-filled Dynatron City, a thriving metropolis which features the world's first experimental atomic-powered sewage treatment plant. Of course, the atomic power goes awry and results in a weird group of heroes—Jet Headstrong, Toolbox, Buzzsaw Girl, to name a few—and an even stranger group of villains, led by the evil Dr. Mayhem.

Defenders Of Dynatron City is the second game that Lucasfilm Games will create with JVC Musical Industries. We'll get the inside scoop on the creation of this title from Howard Phillips soon.

FROM KONAMI

PAK WATCH

Konami/Ultra has plenty of stuff cooking for the NES this fall and winter, from NES sequels to hot PC adaptations.

We already mentioned Pirates!, Where Is Carmen Sandiego? and

King's Quest 5, all due this fall, but we managed to round up a few screen shots on these titles that look pretty good. Even though Carmen Sandiego has gained fame as an educational program, don't let that turn you off. It's a detective mission that sends you on a merry chase around the world in search of master thief Carmen Sandiego and her gang. King's Quest 5 has been receiving rave reviews on the PC, and even though the NES can't match VGA graphics, the theme and play value of the game should translate well.

As for sequels, look for Contra Force (aka Contra 3) and Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles 3 sometime this winter. These titles are still under development, so we couldn't get any photos at press time. Another exciting Konami project, Star Trek, is also scheduled for winter release. PC developers Interplay are handling the programming and so far the results look promising. Konami is planning a special promotion around Star Trek that involves meeting secret aliens and cash prizes.

Next year, Konami/Ultra are planning NES titles based on Tiny Toons, Monster In My Pocket and Bucky O'Hare.

NINJA GAIDEN III

Ryu Hayabusa, the most famous ninja character on the NES, will return in his third video game adventure this fall, subtitled The Ancient Ship Of Doom. The game play will of course be familiar to ninja veterans, but in an effort to keep up with other video game ninjas Ryu has added new moves to his repertoire. He'll still have all the magic ninja arts from before (but no Jump And Slash), and he'll also be able to climb hand-over-hand on horizontal pipes.

Like in the other Ninja Gaiden games, the plot is excellent. Someone impersonating Ryu has pushed Irene Lau, CIA Analyst, off of a cliff during her investigation of a secret lab code name: Cardinal. Ryu immediately sets off in search of Irene's killer in what is sure to be another world spanning adventure full of mysterious characters and plot twists, all told in the cinema scene graphics which the first Ninja Gaiden game popularized.

TREASURE MASTER

We mentioned American Softwork's Treasure Master Game Pak before, but we recently got some top secret details on this amazing game and promotion. This will be the first NES game where you can actually win prizes by playing it to the finish! The Game Pak will be released in the fall, and everyone will have time to master it. When you finish the game, you'll reach a point where you can enter a special password. In February of 1992, American Softworks will reveal the password that will allow you to play a secret portion of the game. The first person to finish the secret level and call in will win a $25,000 bond. Many of those who finish later will still be eligible for prizes—the sooner you finish the better the prize. As you can imagine, the code is top secret.

and the password system has been proven uncrackable by MIT and the CIA.

FROM ACCLAIM/LJN

Acclaim/LJN have some powerful licensed titles on line. Smash TV has some cool features, the best being that one player can use two controllers to simulate the play control of the arcade game! We got a few screen shots from a preliminary version—take a look. The programmers of the game, Beam, are most excited about the number of moving characters that are on the screen simultaneously. Look for Smash TV this summer. Other summer releases from Acclaim/LJN include Wolverine and Terminator 2: Judgement Day.

Acclaim/LJN's fall line-up also has potential. Roger Clemens MVP Baseball is slated for release under the LJN label. The game, which should be out before the World Series, is being programmed by Sculptured Software and features a shifting camera perspective during fielding that promises to be unique among NES baseball games.

Trog, based on the Williams arcade game, will also make an appearance in an NES translation. Wizards & Warriors III: Kuros, Visions Of Power is also scheduled for fall release and marks the return of Acclaim's hopping medieval hero.

GOSSIP GALORE

KUNG FU 2 and HAMMERIN' HARRY

The original Kung Fu, marketed for the NES by Nintendo, as one of the first side-scrolling punching and kicking games, began a new genre of martial arts action games. The programmers of that classic, Irem, are finally creating a sequel in Kung Fu 2. They are also working on a NES version of a popular arcade game from a few years back, Hammerin' Harry.

ULTIMA: WARRIORS OF DESTINY

The third NES installment of the classic computer role playing game series is due out this fall from FCI. Ultima: Warriors Of Destiny is based on the PC Ultima V. For the first time in the Ultima series, Lord British is missing and an evil ruler, John Blackthorn, has usurped the throne of Britannia. As the Avatar, you must battle Blackthorn's Shadow Lords and enter the underworld to find Lord British. Another game in the Advanced Dungeons & Dragons Series, Hillsfar, is also on the way. It is an action/adventure game with character creation options and a variety of activities.

SNOW BROS.

Capcom's translation of the cool arcade game, Snow Bros., is coming along. Like in the arcade game, two-player simultaneous play will be incorporated in the snowball fight action.

MORE ROMANCE AND UNCHARTED WATERS

Koei continues to produce historical simulations for the NES with Romance Of The Three Kingdoms II and Uncharted Waters. The first is a sequel to the original Romance and continues the saga of intrigue and politics in ancient China. Uncharted Waters focuses on western history and includes a few action sequences. The game is set in the time of great explorers, and follows the adventures of a young merchant prince on an around-the-world journey. Instead of a country, you manage a ship.

CES NO-SHOWS

Although Nintendo's CES booth was bigger than ever, with tons of titles announced and the Super Nintendo Entertainment System officially unveiled, a few licenses were noticeably absent from the booth. But don't be alarmed! Natsume simply didn't have their two Super NES titles finished enough to show, and so decided to wait until winter. Taxan will also take a show off to concentrate on development.

The many Mega Man fans will be excited to hear that Mega Man is coming to Game Boy! Dr. Wily's robots are exacting his vengeance, and it's Mega Man who must pay the price. Is he up to it?

Dear Readers,

We get very excited when we hear about a game being developed based on a hit movie. There is a problem, however. Just because a licensee has purchased the rights to make a game based on a movie, it doesn't mean that it has the right to feature the actors who appear in it. Working with celebrities can be a tricky business. For example, Arcadia already had a Robin Hood game in the works when it heard about the new Warner Brothers movie. It obtained the rights to make the game and only after the game was finished did Arcadia discover that it could not include likenesses of the stars themselves. You'll notice we featured Robin Hood on the cover, but there is nowhere in the magazine, or the game, where you'll find Kevin Costner.

When we worked on Batman, we were able to use stills from the movie provided that we got proper approval. We were told that Michael Keaton's agents didn't like the Batman poster from our November 1989 issue because it made his face look too fat. Sony Imagesoft was asked to resork its character's hair-line in its upcoming game, Hudson Hawk, because it looked too much like Bruce Willis. So much for imitation being the sincerest form of flattery!
